

MATHEMATICS PROGRAM

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Here are the themes that stood out across the three math discussion groups:

- solve day-to-day (real world) mathematical problems
- use/develop systematic strategies to produce solutions
- determine if solutions are reasonable
- communicate with appropriate symbols and mathematical language
- think critically

Very similar statements of outcomes appear across these three groups. One shared set of outcomes could result from further faculty discussion.